JACK RONSEE SLAIN AT LA CRESCENTA BY D. J. ALLEN

Five Bullets Are Sent Into the Body of Deputy Sheriff by Negro Watchman

Henry J. (Jack) Ronsee, age 33, a resident of La Crescenta where he managed the Mutual Water company, is dead with five bullet wounds in his body, which is at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors.

He is the first peace officer—a deputy sheriff—to be slain in the New Year, the shooting affray taking place at the La Crescenta lodge, a roadside resort, shortly after midnight, Sunday morning.

D. J. Allen, otherwise known as "John"—the handy man and watchman at the lodge—is in the county jail pending investigation of the circumstances surrounding Ronsee's death. Either murder or manslaughter charges may be placed against him.

Captain Thomas McGuire and Patrolman Louis Nunn of the local police force were called to La Crescenta immediately after the shooting by members of the merry party who were welcoming the New Year—at the expense of an officer's life.

To the police Allen admitted firing the fatal shots and as near as can be determined, Ronsee refused to halt on command of the negro, who, it is Continued on Page 7

James W. Everington Of Glendale to be L. A. Police Chief

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Chief of Police Charles A. Jones today was retired from duty as head of the Department, on a pension, at his request.

It was definitely stated that Col. James W. Everington, civil engineer and a veteran of the world war, and now a resident of Glendale, Cal., has been decided upon for the new chief. Retiring chief issued a statement, in which he declared it very impossible for a Los Angeles police chief to fulfill the obligations of his office because of outside influences.

Jones and City Prosecutor Widney in charges made before the police commission declared H. H. Kinney, Secretary to Mayor Coyer, interfered with the Department in enforcement of city ordinances.

Captain Everington resides at 201 East Fairview. He is a member of Glendale Post 127, American Legion, and is well known among former service men. He is comparatively a young man and of pleasing personality.

CHURCH TO HOLD DINNER
About sixty residents of Southern Glendale are expected to attend the monthly church dinner Wednesday night in the Tropic Presbyterian church. Women of the church will furnish the food and the meal will be spread under the direction of Miss Tirzah Snell, 116 East Eulalia street. It will be followed by the mid-week prayer meeting.

Today's World News In Brief (By International News Service to Glendale Evening News)

GOVERNOR SPROUL MAY SUCCEED SENATOR PENROSE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Governor William C. Sproul of Pennsylvania will be designated to succeed the late Boies Penrose as senator from that state, within a week, it was predicted today by Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, following a visit to the White House.

SEVEN PERSONS DIE WHEN FIRE DESTROYS HOMESTEAD
AMOS, Quebec, Jan. 3.—Seven persons, Joseph Perron, Sr., his sister-in-law, Mrs. Edmond Perron and her five children, perished when the Perron homestead, 18 miles from here, burned today. Fire followed explosion of a lamp, filled by mistake with gasoline. Edmond Perron and two other children escaped by jumping into a snow-bank. Their clothing was in flames.

MORE GOVERNMENT AID FOR AGRICULTURAL PURPOSES
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The war finance corporation today announced additional government advances aggregating $9,359,000 for agricultural and livestock purposes. A total of 255 advances were approved by the corporation. In the week ending December 31, the corporation approved a total of 372 advances amounting to $13,053,000.

S. P. LOSES LAND FIGHT IN U. S. SUPREME COURT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The Southern Pacific railway company lost in the supreme court of the United States today its appeal to set aside a ruling by Secretary of the Interior Fall rejecting public land selections by the railroad company. The selections were made under laws giving to land grant railroads privilege of selecting lands in place of those containing oils and minerals taken from the road.

RED HOT IRONS PLACED AGAINST THEM BY BANDITS
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Attacked by three armed and masked bandits in their home here and subjected to torture when red hot irons were placed against their bodies, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Churchill and daughters, Florence and Mildred, and a guest, J. J. Jaqua of San Luis Obispo, Calif., were held prisoners in the house for three hours and then robbed of $400 early today, according to report made to the police.

STAGE BOLD HOLDUP IN L. A. BUSINESS DISTRICT
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—While hundreds of persons looked on in amazement and terror, three automobile bandits armed with sawed-off shotguns today held up and robbed Roy H. Sherwood and A. N. Tryk, collectors for a drug company, at Sixth and Broadway, the heart of the downtown district. The bandits are reported to have obtained $10,000 in money. The bandits dashed through the streets in a large touring car and escaped.

U. S. SUPREME COURT RULES PRICE SYSTEM UNLAWFUL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The United States supreme court today held that the system of resale price maintenance, enforced by many manufacturers of widely advertised products, is an unlawful interference with free commerce. The decision was handed down in the case of the Beechnut Packing company, which had appealed to the supreme court of the United States to restrain the federal trade commission from enforcing an order served upon the company to abandon the system.

FLOOD WATERS WITHIN SHORT DISTANCE OF PHOENIX
PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 3.—Flood waters, which during the night broke through the Arizona canal forming the northern boundary of Salt River irrigation district, were within two and a half miles of Phoenix today. However, later reports reaching here stated rain had stopped falling in Bradshaw mountain district and it was believed that the crest of the flood had been reached. City officials expressed confidence that the water would be kept from the low lying section of Phoenix between the capital and the city limits. The crest of the flood has now reached a break in the grand canal that was made a week ago and it was expected the flow steadily would decrease unless heavy rains fall in the mountains within the next few hours.

MISS HELEN BETTIS IS MARRIED UPON NEW YEAR'S DAY

Daughter of Mrs. Mary Bettis and Alfred Molitor Wed; to Live in Arizona

One of the prettiest weddings of the New Year was solemnized at 5 p. m. Sunday, January 1, 1922, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Drake, 1112 Melrose avenue, when Helen L. Bettis, daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Bettis of 1120 San Rafael street, became the bride of Alfred Molitor, of Arizona. Dr. J. C. Livingston, pastor of the Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church officiating.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with pink carnations, and abundance of greenery. The room in which the ceremony was performed was all in green, with a beautiful wedding bell of white carnations and sweet peas, with pink shaded lights casting a soft radiance over the lovely scene.

The bride wore white georgette, trimmed with lace panels. Her veil was held in place with bands of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds. Miss Goldie Drake, the bridesmaid, wore buff colored taffeta, and carried Killarney roses. Edward Kirk, brother-in-law of the bride, attended the bridegroom.

Wedding Repast Served
After the ceremony, and the young couple had received congratulations of their friends, accompanied by the relatives and intimate friends, they repaired to the home of the bride's mother, and a wedding repast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Molitor left for a short honeymoon, and will return to Glendale for a few days, before leaving for Arizona. Mrs. Molitor has been a resident of Casa Verdugo for a number of years and has a host of friends in Glendale.

Mr. Molitor was formerly a resident of Los Angeles, but is now located in business in Phoenix, Arizona, where they plan to make their future home.

Those at Ceremony
Those who witnessed the ceremony included Mrs. Mary J. Bettis, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kirk, of Los Angeles, sister and brother-in-law of the bride; Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cotton, and daughter Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Drake, Miss Lulu and Miss Frances Drake, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Olmsted, Mrs. C. B. Haig and daughter Dorothy, Mrs. Mann, Mr. J. Ledger, Miss Maude Soper, Miss Gladys Sharpe, Miss Ida Dana, Miss Edna and Vera Murphy, all of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Gorman, Mrs. Augusta Brand, Mrs. Waddell, Miss Waddell, Miss Anna Keller, Miss Inness, Dr. Carney, of Los Angeles; Miss Mary Leach of Glendale, and William Smith of Arrowhead.

Elks Dinner-Dance Thoroughly Enjoyed By 400 and More

Practically four hundred members of the Glendale Elks' lodge and their friends were present at the club headquarters on Saturday night, when they took part in the best appointed and most successful New Year's Eve dinner-dance in the history of the organization. With the regular entertainment committee, which included Joe Bellue, Jack Hearnshaw, E. P. Hayward, W. B. Kelly, Harry Whaley and Robert Jensen, in charge of the novel affair, everything went off without a hitch, the merry-makers declaring that it was the "best ever."

Both the lodge room and the jinx hall, each of which was furnished with a separate orchestra for dancing throughout the evening, were beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasions with the principal color scheme being red and green, the customary New Year's colors. This combination was delicately interspersed with elegantly festooned silver-tinted cherry branches, with numerous ferns and palms completing the garden effect.

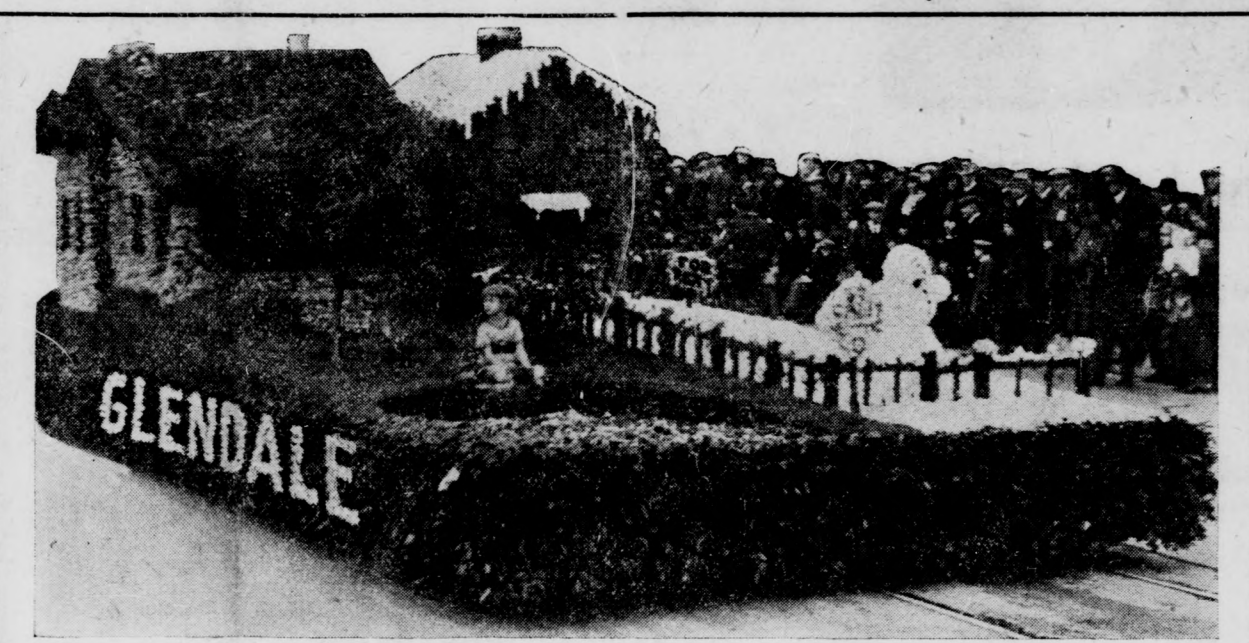

The dinners, which were served at 7 and 8:30 o'clock, respectively, consisted of elaborate six-course affairs and were served, between dances, in the jinx hall. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas of the White Inn were in charge of the meal.

Following the dinner the evening was enjoyed in dancing and special entertainment. Promptly at midnight the New Year was appropriately ushered in with fitting ceremonies.

ENTERTAIN CLUB MEMBERS
Mrs. J. I. Wernette and Mrs. William Sawyer entertained the members of the Fortnightly Bridge Club with a New Year's Eve and dinner party Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Sawyer, 350 West Lomita avenue. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mr. and Mrs. H. Howeth, Mr. and Mrs. William Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wernette.

STAUB'S AUTO IS STOLEN
George Staub, a cement contractor of 324 Hawthorne street, reported that his motor car was stolen Saturday evening while parked in the vicinity of the Baptist church. It was recovered after being abandoned by joyriders New Year's eve.

Glendale Float Wins FIRST Prize at Tournament of Roses! What? FIRST Prize? Yes—Awarded by the Public—But is Given SECOND Honors by Judges; Oh, Well Let's Not Bust Up the Show, Folks!

Here is Glendale's beautiful float as it passed re-view in Pasadena yesterday. Little Ellen Martelle McKee is seen in the foreground of the California side of winter.

CITY'S DISPLAY IS HEARTILY CHEERED BY BIG CROWDS

'Glendale Wins Again!' Is the Cry: Co-Operation Proves Community Benefit

By GIL A. COWAN

"East versus West" was more than a football game at the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena yesterday! It was the prize-winning floral picture subject of Glendale's float in the great pageant which passed in review of thousands of tourists from all parts of the world, thousands of visitors from points in southern California; and thousands of admiring residents of Glendale and vicinity.

First place in Class A was awarded Portland, Oregon, with its lavish display of American beauty roses in a polychrome urn out of which peeped a beautiful and buxom young woman.

Second place was given Glendale with its parallel of the snowbound east, its house for rent and foot-tracks "straight ahead" to southern California, where on the other side of the fence was the pretty little bungalow, its sun-kissed orange tree, the rolling ocean with little Ellen Martelle McKee playing on the sands.

Glendale is Praised
All of this made of flowers! Not even a sign painted! What more could be imagined by the throngs who lined the way? "All hail Glendale!" was a cry heard many times. The fastest growing city in America of its class held everyone's attention for they knew it was out to win.

And for a real prize-winner Glendale had it on Southern California. If you do not believe an ardent booster like myself, let me quote what John A. Gray says in this morning's Los Angeles Examiner:

"For instance, there was Glendale. For sheer beauty there has scarcely ever been anything to match the entry of this suburban city which raises a new acreage of houses every day."

"The float was suggestive of this; only two houses were displayed, but they were fairy castles of loveliness. All in brilliant blossoms, the number of which were as unknown to the writer as their names, they would (Continued on Page 5)

Mrs. Gus A. Lavison Hostess Behalf of Miss Mildred McKee

Mrs. Gus A. Lavison of 2845 Seneca avenue was hostess at a very delightful affair Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Mildred McKee. During the afternoon luncheon was enjoyed. High score was won by Miss Ruth Spafford and consolation prize to Mrs. Irvin Bullock. Miss McKee was presented with a beautiful French corsage bouquet.

Decorations of violets and roses were used throughout the house. During the afternoon refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted by her mother, Mrs. Robert McMullen.

The invited guests included Miss Mildred McKee, Miss Ruth Spafford, Miss Lillian Webster, Miss Gertrude Vaughn, Miss Marjory Gunyon, Mrs. Irvin Bullock, Mrs. E. S. McKee and Mrs. Robert McMullen.

CONSIDER SCHOOL PLANS
Plans for the new intermediate school will be presented to the city board of education at the Intermediate school tonight by Architect Alfred F. Priest, 4422 North Central avenue. The additions to the Colopado, Columbus, Pacific and Doran schools will be discussed, also.

L. W. CHOBÉ, DESIGNER OF GLENDALE'S FLOAT INJURED IN AN ACCIDENT

L. W. Chobé, designer of the Glendale float, has his right arm in a sling—one bone being broken.

While bringing the work of floral art back to Glendale yesterday afternoon the float was stopped by a photographer for a final "snapshot."

It was Mr. Chobé's desire to have everything in good shape and while crawling out from the power plant beneath the float to arrange some of the flowers, a passing motorist ran over his arm. He was getting from under the skirt of Oregon grape vine when the car brushed by. Aides caught the license number on the machine and rushed to Mr. Chobé's assistance. He was brought to Glendale and Dr. R. E. Chase reduced the fracture. His many friends are extending sympathy today.

"It might have been worse," says Mr. Chobé with a smile. "What if I had rolled out from under the float head first?"

Dr. Henry Harrower Gives Compliments to L. W. Chobé, Designer

Editor The Evening News—This little note is one of compliment to Glendale and especially to L. W. Chobé, for the most beautiful float that has been entered in the Tournament of Roses by our city in years.

Perhaps forty of the folks here at the laboratory went to Pasadena yesterday to see what they could see, and every one with whom I have spoken told me that the remarks of those near them all favored our float. In other words, the man on the street judged the array and gave the praise to Glendale—even if the judges didn't.

Might it not have been that they were astounded to find so beautiful a display of roses representing Portland and so far away from us, and that their impressions were influenced by its astoundment? Don't forget also that Pasadena depends upon good-will for its business and there is no better advertisement than good-will plus news in the papers. Might not the judges have subconsciously felt this way, and visualized the front page stuff in today's Portland papers?

Of course, it is difficult to decide between two beautiful things, as doubtless some of the men folks have found many times, but when every thing is considered—not merely the beauty and lines, but the spirit, the allegorical value, originality and ingenuity—I feel sure that the judges would have to look a great deal farther to find a float that would excel the one from Glendale.

My compliments to Mr. Chobé, designer! I have decided that it was by far the most beautiful, the best and the most educational float in the parade. And of course that counts, doesn't it? If he wants it, I will give Mr. Chobé a putty medal to make up for the chagrin at being ousted by our friends from the north.

Bears Have Claws Clipped by Presidents; 'Wonder Team' Smothered With Mud

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News

Throughout the gridiron seasons of 1920 and 1921, the University of California football team was considered by many as one of the luckiest teams in the country—yesterday they stamped themselves absolutely as the most efficient horseshoe artists that ever took part in a championship game when, with their usual majority of "breaks," they were able to stave off defeat at the hands of the plucky Washington and Jefferson Presidents. Time and time again the overconfident Bears saw an enemy score staring them in the face only to have the ever-present "fluke" bob up at the critical moment and rob the less fortunate easterners of a rightfully deserved victory that would have completely upset the expectations of pigskin followers throughout the country.

The first and most spectacular of these seemingly irrefragable "breaks," for the past two years which have "buffaloed" Andy Smith's athletes into believing that they are head and shoulders above any eleven in the United States, came in the last few minutes of the first quarter.

Called Back; Offside

Brenkert, whose consistent gains placed him second only to the sensational Erickson in the day's list of backfield stars, got away from a false pass formation on the California thirty-seven yard line and zigzagged his way through the entire Bruin squad for a touchdown, only to be called back by the heartless referee, who declared that a V. and J. man had been offside. The play was a brilliant one and nobody who witnessed it will deny that Dame Fortune's fair graces were all that prevented the score.

To cite one more shining example of the so-called "Golden Tornado" (Continued on Page 5).

Dr. and Mrs. Young Give Dancing Party Behalf New Year's

Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Young of 400 North Kenwood street were host and hostess at a very delightful dancing party given in the ballroom at their home New Year's Eve. Dancing continued until 1 o'clock when supper was served. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. MacBain, Mr. and Mrs. Max Green, Mr. and Mrs. George Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight W. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. George Capus, Dr. and Mrs. Rankin of Los Angeles, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Staley of Los Angeles, Dr. and Mrs. E. Leslie Eames, Dr. E. F. Tholen, Miss Lucille Tholen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baird, Miss Margaret Cross, Miss Goddard and Mr. Gibson of Los Angeles.

LEAVE FOR NOGALES, ARIZ.

J. A. Starr and wife, Dr. Lillis Wood Starr, of 132 South Isabel street, are leaving today for Nogales, Arizona, for four months. Dr. Starr has been credit man at the Harrower Laboratory where he has been for over two years. Dr. Starr is a graduate of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and will practice medicine in Old Mexico. Dr. Starr did a great work in Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico, some years ago.

BUILDING PERMITS AT $5,099,201 FOR THE PAST YEAR

More Than 1300 New Homes During 1921; Facts and Figures Are Given

Glendale building permits for December went over the half million dollar mark with a whoop during the last two hours Saturday morning boosting the permits for the month from $490,584 at 10 o'clock $15,400 to $505,984 at noon—or $5,984 over the peak.

Well over the five million dollar mark for the year, building permits in the final rush came within $799 of reaching $5,100,000 and closed at $5,099,201.

Final figures show that $897,240 is the value of business and industrial building erected during the past year, $101,900 of which started during December.

That the value of apartment houses for the year is $190,000 with $28,000 during last month.

That 2359 permits were issued last year and 186 during the past month.

Many New Homes Here
More than 1300 new homes were established in Glendale during 1921 according to the report of J. F. McIntyre, commercial agent of the public service department at the city hall.

This shows that 1342 water and 1740 light meters were installed during the year just closed.

December saw 106 water and 189 light meters by the city experts.

New Year's Day saw 6160 water and 7000 light meters in operation, all busy clicking out income for the city.

The first of January last year 4818 water and 5350 light meters were at work.

Contractor W. S. May got the honor of taking out the first building permit in 1922. Bright and early he was at the city hall with plans for an eight-room duplex house to be erected at 335-337 West Myrtle street, for Mrs. F. L. Gleason at a cost of $6000. It will have redwood siding and a composition roof, for which Mr. May rushed right down to the Bentz-Schoeneman Lumber (Continued on Page 7)

Sheriff Traeger to Make Address Before Thursday Club Here

An open forum meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. E. V. Bacon is president, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the branch library building at Los Feliz and South Brand boulevard, to which an invitation has been extended to club members and their friends. Dr. Jessie Russell, chairman of the forum programs, has arranged to have as the speakers for that afternoon Sheriff William Traeger, who will tell about the plans for the new county and city jail and improved conditions for prisoners.

Modern methods for county institutions, gleaned from several eastern cities, will be discussed by Supervisor J. H. Bean.

Property rights for women under existing laws will be the topic of Mrs. M. Copeland Lineman, Los Angeles attorney.

Waffle Breakfast at Arthur Dibbern Home

A jolly party of friends were guests at a waffle breakfast given at 9 o'clock New Year's morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, 612 North Orange street. This same group of friends attended the dinner dance given Saturday night at the Elks club and later adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, where the party was continued for a short time, recovering again in the morning at the Dibbern residence.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rattray, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Hollister and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dibbern.

Miss Maebelle Moyer Weds Geo. Kauffman

Friends of Miss Maebelle B. Moyer and George G. Kauffman will be interested to learn of their marriage, which took place Saturday afternoon, December 31, 1921, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Moyer of Sonoma avenue and Fourth street. It was a quiet wedding, with just immediate relatives and intimate friends present. Rev. C. M. Crist of the First M. E. church officiated, the ring ceremony being used.

Mr. Kauffman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kauffman of Traverse City, Mich. He came to California recently from that city to claim his bride, but will remain in Los Angeles as he is at present connected with a local firm in business there.

EVERY MAN IN HIS PLACE, IS TOPIC PASTOR TAKES

Those of Conviction Wanted Everywhere, Says Dr. Funk in His Sermon Sunday

"Every Man in His Place" was the subject for the New Year's sermon by Dr. H. C. Funk Sunday morning at the Lutheran church.

"The children of Israel were engaged in a great conflict against the Midianites," he said in part. "But while the Midianites were as grasshoppers for numbers the Lord assured Gideon that the 32,000 were too many to go against the enemy. Israel vaunt themselves against me, saying 'Mine Own hand hath saved me.' So the Lord instructed the leader of the Israelites to put his men to a test, let all that are afraid return to their homes. And the record is that 22,000 forsook their posts at the first opportunity. And the Lord said unto Gideon, 'The people are yet too many.'"

"By another test the number was reduced to a mere handful. These three hundred men were divided into three companies and he put a trumpet in every man's hand with empty pitchers and lamps within the pitchers. 'And they stood every man in his place.' And the three hundred men blew their trumpets at the appointed time and brake their pitchers and the Lord delivered the enemy into their hands."

"Now in the conflict of life there are many enlisted in the Lord's cause, who, if a test were made, would show a corresponding decrease in their loyalty to the cause of Christ. I would rather have 300 dead-in-heart members in my church than 30,000 fearful saints ready to run away from duty at the first excuse."

"We should pray God at the beginning of this New Year not for easy lives but for power equal to our tasks. This principle applies not only to the work of the church but in every department of life. The church of Jesus Christ today needs stalwart believers, who know the truth and knowing it dare to maintain it. 'Everywhere there is a call for men of conviction; men who do not mince or mumble in their utterances, but who with faith proclaim their utmost conviction.'"

Increase in Fares on the P. E. System Results in Protest

Editor The Evening News.—Permit me to say a few words in regard to the Pacific Electric increase of fares. In the first place, it's a blow at every man's pocketbook. This may sound like hard language, but nevertheless true. We are all willing to pay a reasonable fare, but this goes beyond everything I have seen. For example, the thirty-ride book, as I understand, is mostly used, on account of the three months' time limit, will cost $4.40, an increase of 94 cents over the last fare. Thus, it is going to cost us $4.40 for two weeks, $8.80 per month, or conservatively $108 a year, an exorbitant price for transportation.

It is peculiar how the Los Angeles Railway gets along on "nickel fares." For instance, the distance from Glendale to Los Angeles is eight miles, for which we shall pay 23 cents, whereas the same distance can be covered in Los Angeles for 5 cents.

Believing that this will reach all Glendale residents and especially the Pacific Electric commuters, Pasadena and Hollywood protest, why not Glendale?

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally if You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

Joseph A. Moore Tells of Work Accomplished; Future Outlook Very Bright

The San Gabriel Valley Automobile Trade association directors received the annual report and financial statement from Secretary-Manager P. W. Battelle, last week.

Establishing a record of new members that exceeds that of any similar organization in the state, improving the financial condition of the association, bettering trade conditions and bringing into the territory many speakers of note are a few of the facts outlined.

Most Satisfactory Years

Speaking of the progress made in the past year, Joseph A. Moore, president of the association, said:

"The motoring public realize that the California Auto Trade association and its many units have contributed in a high degree toward the stabilizing of the automobile business in the state. As a proof of this, just note the names of our members. They have prospered, and in these days of keen competition it is the survival of the fittest."

"We back up our motto of 'Your Protection' to the car-owner, by bringing better business methods into the shops of our members. Every member is pledged to give courteous treatment, efficient service, and fair prices, which, together with guaranteed work, makes for 100 per cent satisfaction."

"We are closing a most satisfactory year. We have progressed because our ideals are right. Our association was organized to benefit both the car-owner and the dealer."

"The history of the founding of the Automobile Trade association in the state of California is a most interesting one," stated P. W. Battelle. "Some seven years ago a man conceived the idea of banding together all dealers interested in automobiles and their accessories and forming an association for the betterment of the trade."

Association Is Started

"So he went out among dealers and discussed the proposition with them. About twenty men interested in the various lines of the automobile industry banded together, and formed the nucleus of the California Automobile Trade association. Today the association has over 3600 members in California. The idea was so good that 18 other states adopted it and formed associations patterned after the one in this state."

"Bob Martland is the man whose idea it was that brought these associations into existence. Each year he has been unanimously re-elected state secretary-manager of the California Auto Trade Association."

"The purpose of the association is for mutual benefit. It benefits both the car owner and the dealer. Every member of our association is pledged to give fair prices, courteous treatment and guarantees satisfaction to each customer. Each member displays the blue and yellow insignia as a guarantee of fair treatment. Dealers meet, they exchange ideas and they find better ways of conducting their business. Naturally, the customer benefits from these ideas."

Complaints Are Welcomed

"The idea of an association of this kind holding up prices is ridiculous. It is unconstitutional for one thing and never in any way, shape or form has this association endeavored to keep prices above where they should be. Supposing you have a complaint about a dealer displaying the insignia. Call up the secretary; put your complaint before him. He will see that a committee investigates your case and, if you are in the right, justice will be done. So you see that any way one figures the car owner is protected."

"The contrast of the business place of today with that of seven years ago is remarkable. They were not so scrupulously well kept, the service was not so good. Today a tire man, battery man, or any other dealer's place of business is a pleasing sight. Clean and well kept, the customer receives prompt attention and knows that he is guaranteed satisfaction by trading with a member of the association."

"The state association is subdivided into forty-two local organizations, each with their own officers, secretary-manager, etc. The local association is known as the San Gabriel Valley Auto Trade association, covering the cities of Pasadena, South Pasadena, Glendale, and Alhambra. At present there are 86 members, each one with the association insignia over his door, signifying that the inscription on it which reads, 'Your Protection,' means just that with them."

It Cannot Be Cured Thru the Mouth!

MANY illnesses are caused by undue pressure upon the nerves feeding that particular part of the anatomy. The pulsing life-giving energy transmitted through the nerves to the various organs, must reach their goals unhampered by any causes, if these organs are to function properly.

Many so-called diseases and ills are quickly and effectively cured by adjusting the spinal cord through which these nerves run. Where medicine relieves the trouble temporarily, chiropractic treatment effects a permanent cure.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. F. M. SHUMATE

A number of sorrowing relatives and friends gathered to attend the very beautiful and impressive funeral services held at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking company, Saturday afternoon, for Mrs. F. M. Shumate, who passed away at 6:30 p. m. December 29, 1921, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John H. Jackson, 332 North Orange street.

Dr. C. A. Cole, pastor of the First Christian church, of which she was a member, conducted the services, and, in his brief address, paid her a beautiful tribute, comparing the closing of her long, beautiful life, spent in devotion to her duties as wife, mother, grand-parent and friend, to the "eventide of a beautiful day." The solos, "There'll be no night there" by Mrs. Mercer, and "Goodnight beloved," by Mrs. A. L. Well, with Miss Laura Wilford Brown, accompanist, were very beautifully rendered. Among the floral offerings which were many and unusual, were a symbolically designed broken wheel, wreaths of exquisite hothouse rose buds, a floral cross, and a spray of lovely shell pink rosebuds, this latter almost covering the soft grey casket.

John C. Eberline, A. L. Wall of Los Angeles, Daniel McKay, George Smith, E. H. Learned, John McTeer, of Glendale officiated as pallbearers. Interment was made at Forest Lawn, where she was laid to rest beside her son, Francis M. Shumate, whose death, five years ago, cast a deep shadow over the closing years of her life.

Elizabeth Higginbotham Shumate was born in Garrard County, Kentucky, March 26, 1847, and had passed her 74th birthday. She married Francis Marion Shumate, October 11, 1866. Last October they observed their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary. They spent practically all of their married life in Danville, Kentucky, where they were among the most prominent citizens of the county. She united with the Christian church, during the early years of her girlhood, and had lived a beautiful Christian life. One of the deepest regrets of her latter years had been that she was not physically able to be a regular attendant at divine service. Mrs. Shumate was the mother of ten children, five of whom, survive, to comfort the sorrowing father and widow. These are Mrs. J. P. Whitte of East Radford, Va., Mrs. Katherine Fitts, Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. R. M. McKee, Jellico, Tenn., George T. Shumate, Cartersville, Ill., Mrs. John H. Jackson, 332 North Orange street, Glendale. She leaves three grand-children and three great-grand-children.

LOCAL FORD AGENCY IS DISTRIBUTING NEW CALENDAR

Several Unusual Features on this 1922 One; Presented by Jesse E. Smith

A new type of calendar is now being distributed by Jesse E. Smith to the many friends of the local Ford agency.

No, it isn't either a Yiddish or an Irish calendar and it hasn't any more days in it than the ordinary kind. But it does have several unusually useful features. For instance, behind the sheet of every month is an illustrated list of Ford parts.

"I haven't quite figured out whether or not it is supposed to take a whole month to fit each group together," replied Mr. Smith. However, I believe it would take an ordinary person about a year to assemble an entire car."

Behind the calendar pad is space for an automobile identification and insurance record. Mr. Smith says that this would come in handy in case you might forget to bring your Ford home some night. Under the cover of the calendar is tabulated space for daily gasoline oil and expense entry for each day in the year. Nothing is said, however, about where to secure the cash.

Bullfrog Says "La! La!"

The picture in colors upon the cover depicts a Ford sedan parked upon the grassward under an overhanging tree with the usual green leaves beside a beautiful lake in Wisconsin. In the distance can be seen a respectful light yellow sunset. Two miles off, across the lake, a bullfrog is singing. Near the Ford Mama and Papa are spreading out the picnic lunch. The baby has his hands in the potato salad, but hasn't been informed of the fact, yet.

"I am sure these people are from Glendale because they look so contented," declared Mr. Smith. "But I'm sure I don't know how they got to Wisconsin—unless they went in their Ford for a week-end trip."

Open Door of Year Topic of Sermon by Rev. Harley Preston

"The Open Door of the Year" was the subject of Rev. Harley G. Preston's New Year's sermon at the Pacific Avenue Methodist Church.

"The ancient Romans named this month in honor of their god Janus, who had two faces," declared Rev. Preston. "One face looked forward and the other backward. The name of the god Janus itself came from the word 'janua,' meaning a door. Janus was the great janitor who opened the door of the year and door of every human life. The people and priests prayed to Janus at the beginning of every day and when they began any work. They also had a great festival for him on the first day of January and finally they reckoned the beginning of the year from his festival. He had a temple in Rome the gates of which were closed when there was peace in the land and always open during war."

"The name January is very suggestive. It is a fit reminder to us all that the beginning of the new year is an appropriate season for scrutinizing our past and forecasting our future. The strong tendency at this season is to look only forward and not backward. Many people see no value in backward glances. We are not to despise the past. There is a true sense in which it can be said that our forward course can only be made successful by looking backward."

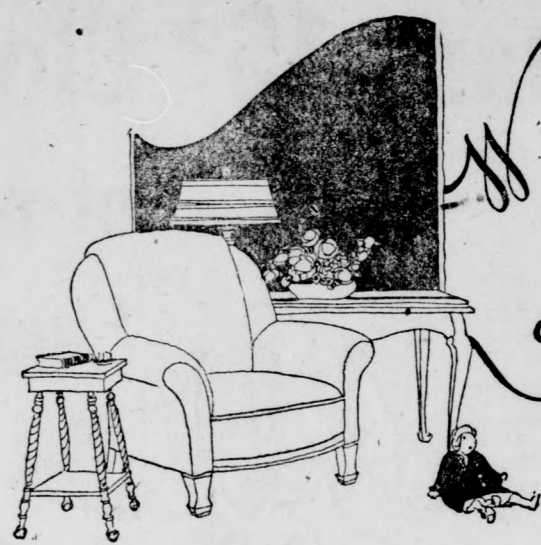

"In the region of the Ohio river at some seasons of the year nearly every morning there can be seen a heavy fog covering all the surface of the water and the valley through which the river flows. Rowers, who have occasion to cross the broad stream in the early part of the day often experience a great difficulty in pulling a direct course to the other side. As men enter in for rowing in a circle so there is a strong tendency to row in a circle. By carefully looking backward, by keeping his eyes steadily on the rippling wake of the boat, the rower can make sure that he is progressing towards the shore."

"No less profitable may we find it in the voyage of life to exercise the grace of looking backward. A sight of the path we have traversed already may suggest much in regard to the way we ought to take. People talk about 'experience keeping a dear school' but it is not so dear after all when we come to consider the value of the lessons we learn and their wonderful help for the future. In the matter of Christian living all past experiences may be valuable as helps and guides for the things that are before."

"Standing on this summit between the years let us pause a little and take a calm and thoughtful view of the way over which we have already come and learn the lessons it teaches. Let us not fail to recall that one source of joy and peace and assurance is that Christ promises to be with us all the way."

Opposes Measure for Russian Relief Work

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—Declaring "there will be suffering from want and starvation in the United States this winter," Representative Stafford, Republican of Washington, launched a fight in the house against the bill providing $20,000,000 for Russian relief. "Shall we deny our own people to give to others?" Stafford demanded.

United States Will Take Part In Any Economic Meeting

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—The United States government will take part in an economic conference called by some other government to remedy evils of foreign exchange and to stabilize commerce generally, but will avoid the initiative in such a plan, Secretary of Commerce Hoover announced.

Secretary Hoover, as well as Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, have been firm in their refusal to listen to pleas by the representatives of foreign governments that such a conference be held at the end of the arms conference.

Secretary Hoover's suggestion was considered most significant. Whether or not it indicated a change in policy on the part of the administration, was not made clear. The impression was gained, however, that the United States is keenly alive to the necessity of a conference of representatives of principal world powers and would not register objection if such a conference were called and if it did not conflict with the aims or accomplishments of the arms conference now in session here.

GREAT SALES GAIN MADE IN 1922 BY STUDEBAKERS

S. C. Packer, Local Agent, Is Sure Large Increase Due to Owners' Satisfaction

Prosperity in Southern California has been strongly indicated during 1921 by the exceptional records of bank clearings, building permits and automobile sales. These three things indicate very clearly the financial situation in any community.

There has been a gain of more than 10,000 new cars over sales of 1920, which is an increase of about one-third. The first part of the year started off rather slowly as compared with the rush of buying that began in earnest in June. March was the best of the first six months and was followed by a let up in April, but from June 1 until December 15 business hummed merrily. The weather man upset the calculations for December by flooding the country with rain, but the lead over last year was but slightly affected by the last two weeks of the year.

Over Double Business
While the industry in Southern California showed a gain of one-third in sales the Studebaker dealers more than doubled their business. They started off the year with the slogan, "This is a Studebaker Year" and they more than justified it with a record that is extraordinary, they declare.

When S. C. Packer of the Packer Auto company, Studebaker distributor, was asked for the reason of this great wave of popularity that has placed the Studebaker in the dominant position among six-cylinder cars, he stated that the increase of business was due almost entirely to the active enthusiasm of owners created by a satisfaction with the performance of their cars. He gives them full credit for doubling the business and states that with the thousands of new owners added this year that the slogan will apply just as well for 1922 as it did for 1921.

Love Never Fails Sermon Subject by Rev. W. E. Edmonds

One of the largest congregations in the history of the Presbyterian church turned out in spite of the rain to hear Rev. W. E. Edmonds' New Year's sermon.

"Love Never Fails," the text of the morning, had been worked by members of the Intermediate Society with carnations into a beautiful floral piece which hung in front of the organ.

"All of us feel and want this year to be the best year of our life," declared Rev. Edmonds. "Then choose you the best thing. Take for the year this motto: 'Love never fails.' There are many things that do fail—health, honor, strength, friends. God said to Abraham, 'I will never fail thee.'"

"There are three clusters of characteristics of what love is: The first is passive—suffereth long; the second is negative—endureth; the third is active—love does." The first suggests that the largest part of love's life is to suffer. But love takes the keen edge off; it sings and bears it.

"Come quickly to the negative things. There are a number of them in the character of love. First, its innocence—not the innocence of the babe but of the full-grown man who has been through the world. It rejoices not in another's fall; has no jealousy. And love's modesty; it vaunteth not itself. Pride is the most abhorrent sin to God. You are only a sinner, saved by grace with no glory but in the cross.

"And love's manners: It doth not behave itself unseemly; it makes a true gentleman and lady under all circumstances.

"And love's aim: 'Seeketh not her own'; never terminates on one's self; if it does, it ceases to be love. 'If the temper of love: It is not provoked; it is something else in us that is provoked. Had Christ loved here the world would have been lost.

"And the memory of love: It thinketh no evil. 'And the eye of love: It rejoices not in iniquity.

"Now it would seem that love is mostly 'do not' those things that cannot be undone. These four active things it does: It loves to bless; it is kind; it rejoices in the truth; it believeth all things; every good thing it hears; it hopeth all things with the heavenly art of living by faith.

"Especially love is the best thing and it should be as queen of all graces in our lives. Men seem to think love is a weakness. No, it is a strength. It will accomplish anything it undertakes and it makes any burden light. It does what money cannot buy. It is the main spring of life. Love is the substance of all righteousness, duty and obedience and constitutes the key to everything in Christian life."

The evening service was featured by the choir's cantata, which stressed of weather had deferred, "The Christmas King."

Why White Covering
"Glendale said it in flowers" all right, but there is a point to be discussed here. One of the houses was covered with white to resemble snow. There was many a guffaw over this. "Why the snow?" these persons who lack in the esoteric were asking. It was very simple; that house told you what they would be having back east, but the other was California.

Otis M. Wiles writing in the Los Angeles Times says:

"Glendale, for an elegant example of the growth of Southern Californian communities, appeared in full bloom with one of the most beautiful floral floats ever created. It told a story in flowers, a parable worth heeding—a home in California in winter, green lawns, a flower-flecked ocean, blossoming vines over the open door and children playing in the open; an eastern home in winter, snowpiled, icicles dangling from the eaves and sealed like a sepulchre."

Local People Co-operate

A description of the float with its wealth of flowers already has been published and to say that it incorporated everything L. W. Chobe, the designer, had planned for it speaks but mildly, for it contained more. That was the spirit of co-operation which made Glendale first in Southern California and foremost in the minds of everyone except the judges who evidently were instructed to "find a float more fitting of first prize."

To local people it is clear that Pasadena Tournament officials could not afford to "stop their show" by Glendale's consistent victories. Already Eagle Rock, Burbank and other communities had quit competing. So, while this situation exists, this city must bow in deference, thankful that the Crown City condescends to Glendale getting so much favorable publicity.

Again, let it be said for the Chamber of Commerce committee headed by Mrs. M. L. Tight, the donors of the fund, the workers on the float and those who stood by and cheered Glendale in the triumphant procession that the honor is all yours.

SPORTS CHATTER By BILL UNMACK PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Writing in an eastern paper Ted Meredith has named what he considers the best track and field men of all time in the amateur ranks. Meredith, let it be known, still holds the world's record for 880 yards with 1:52 1-5, but modesty has evidently played its part with Ted as he has placed Mel Shepard on the all-star selections for the half mile.

We are of the opinion that Meredith would have been fully justified in placing his own name against the 880-yard event in place of Shepard's. There is no question about the ability of Meredith in his prime. He was a phenomenal quarter and half-miler, and not only phenomenal but consistent in his performances.

The stars named by Meredith are as follows:
100 Yards—Barnie Wefers, N. Y. A. C.
220 Yards—Charles Paddock, University of Southern California.
440 Yards—Maxey Long, N. Y. A. C.

880 Yards—Mel Shepard, Irish American A. C., New York.
1 mile, Tommy Conneff, N. Y. A. C.
Two miles, Joie Ray, Ill. A. C.
120 yards, high hurdles, Earl Thompson, Dartmouth.
220 yard low hurdles, A. C. Kraenzlein, U. of Penn.

High jump, Wesley Oler, Yale.
Broad jump, Ned Gourdin, Harvard.
Pole vault, S. F. Foss, Cornell.
Shot put, Pat McDonald, N. Y. A. C.

Hammer throw, Pat Ryan, Irish American A. C.

All round, Jim Thorpe, Carlisle. Meredith says such selections are more or less matters of personal opinion. We agree with him and consequently disagree with several of his selections. He gives Oler of Yale for instance the pride of place in the high jump for "consistency." We rise to a point of order on the question, who could have been more consistent in competition than Eddie Beeson, U. of California present world record holder, and George Horine former world record holder? Both men jumped for years and won consistently round 6 feet 3 inches to 6 feet 7 inches.

We disagree with friend Ted on the selection of Pat McDonald over the late Ralph Rose, Olympic club, San Francisco in the shot put. Meredith gives McDonald the place owing to his defeating Rose at the 1912 Olympic games. Yes, true, but the next day Rose beat McDonald, and the McDonald victory was one of the very few defeats Rose suffered at McDonald's hands. Ted gives Joie Ray the two mile place. We would ask, how about Arthur Shrubbs? And in the one mile we would rise to a point of order on the merits of Norman Taber over Conneff.

The placing of Wefers in the hundred yard race is open for discussion, using Howard Drew as our side of the argument. True it is all a point of view you take. Meredith has picked out strong men for each event, but on their performances, records and consistency the men we have mentioned seem open for some consideration and we would refer to Ralph Rose and Eddie Beeson. We also, as originally stated, believe Meredith himself is entitled to the half mile berth and we agree fully with all other events on which we have not commented.

The WORLD OVER By FRANKLIN B. MORSE PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Indications are strong that after this season, if there is any annual East vs. West football game, it will pass out of the hands of the committee of the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena. Sentiment is strong that such a contest should be handled by the Pacific coast intercollegiate conference, and furthermore that the game should be played in a college stadium with the regular collegiate atmosphere.

The fact that Pasadena realizes the fact it is likely to lose the game is best shown by the fact that the committee has come out with a declaration that after the expenses are paid, the remainder shall revert to a charity. This is merely an attempt to assuage the colleges and the public, with a view to keeping the game if possible. After all, what the game accomplishes for Pasadena is to bring the crowds so that an opportunity may be given to the real estate agents a chance to expatiate on the climatic and other blessings which that section of the country will shower on the inhabitant. They have exploited the college teams as the best means of bringing in the crowds and, up to date, they have been eminently successful.

Eastern football managements were the first to see that their teams were merely part and parcel of a big boost proposition to get Pasadena on the map, and as far as Yale, Harvard and Princeton are concerned, the writer believes that the saying that Pasadena never will get any one of the three universities mentioned to play there.

In the second place, Pasadena essentially is not a football climate, and eastern teams who are aware of the conditions which exist for a post season game no longer will take the chance of sending their teams into a semi-tropical climate out of one that is frozen after the middle of November as a rule.

The Pacific coast intercollegiate conference has taken the right step in stating that it will, in future handle any East versus West game that is scheduled and will be the final judge as to what teams will be selected to represent the various sections. Just what license or right the Tournament of Roses Committee has had in the past of self appointing itself the judge, does not appear. Just what right they had in the matter of staging a purely intercollegiate event does not appear. Other than that they made the attempt, and for a number of years successfully put it over while the collegiate authorities were going around and doing their bidding with their eyes fast shut.

With such fine stadiums as now are owned by Stanford, Washington, and other coast universities, the placing of the East versus West game entirely in collegiate hands will be hailed with much favor by all those who have the interests of the great game at heart. The Pasadena real estate men have all but created a scandal this season by their greed to get a game, any kind of a game—so long as it was a game, and the position of the University of California in aiding and abetting it by listening to the overtures is scarcely to the credit of this institution. Everything this year has smacked of commercialism, and another such repetition would kill the game. No charity camouflage should allow the game to pass out of control of bona fide collegiate management.

Golden Bears Well Plastered With Mud by Eastern Brothers

sheer luck we will delve for a moment on the play in the final period when Erickson recovered a California fumble on his own twelve-yard line and, with a clear field in front of him, skidded in a mud puddle just as he was increasing the distance between him and his Plantigrade pursuers.

California rooters may claim that the fumble was a "break" in favor of the Presidents, but it is recalled that the Bruin who dropped the oval was Halback Dunn, who had just entered the struggle in place of Don Nichols and whose uniform was still immaculate, thereby eliminating any chance of an alibi on account of a wet and slippery suit. Such fumbles, although they may be made by the best player in the business, is nothing more or less than poor football.

Bears Are Outplayed

Although there will be hundreds of ardent California followers who claim that their team would have won on a dry field, it is difficult to fathom their argument when it is noted that the Bears were outplayed in every department of the game except kicking, which was practically offset by the phenomenal work of Erickson, who returned almost every punt from ten to twenty yards.

The bunch of Scandinavian nerve, brains and speed was picked by every one of the forty thousand "mudhens" who filled the grandstands to capacity as the outstanding star of the day. His performance in both offense and defense yesterday were more than any of the Bruin's backfield stars has ever exhibited in a contest.

Particularly was he adept at circling the ends, his speed and shift-ness accounting for yard after yard gained via this method.

Sharing with Erickson for individual honors on the Washington and Jefferson aggregation were Captain Russell Stein and Herb Kopf, whose sterling play on the line literally "broke" the oft-mentioned "impregnable" California forward wall. Besides putting up a whale of an exhibition on the line these two tankards made repeated gains when carrying the oval on line plunges and end-around plays.

For the morally defeated Bears it should be stated that the one and only "Brick" Muller, although helpless as far as forward passing was concerned on account of the wet ball, played his usual high-class game, breaking up play after play, running excellent, interference and behaving as all good ends should.

His task was more difficult than was that of any of his team mates, due to the fact that his national reputation as an All-American performer made him a "marked" man. It was easy to note that, whether on defense or offense, there were always at least two Presidents playing for him.

In Don Nichols, former Pomona high school half back, and Charley Erb, often mentioned as "the brainiest" field general in American football," who were predicted by many experts to star against W. and J., the hopes of the west's rooters were given quite a setback. Nichols, who was supposed to have run rings around Erickson in broken field running, hardly broke even in all his ball carrying attempts, while it seemed to many that the Bears' star quarterback pulled a number of "boners" during the game.

The most marked example of one of these came during the early part of the game when, with but eighteen inches to go on the fourth down and in the center of the field, Erb called for a punt. Any kind of a line play would have made the necessary half yard, although it may have been that Erb was merely following the directions of "Boss Andy."

Forty New Members Received on Sunday at First Methodist

Rain did not keep a large congregation from the First Methodist church on Sunday morning, the quarterly observance of the Lord's Supper. Preceding this sacrament, Dr. C. M. Crist gave a New Year's talk on "Closing Up Old Accounts."

"There is no better time," said he, "than now to close up any outstanding accounts, of paying off all old bills. I have no desire to inquire into private affairs or of knowing to whom this applies, but I would impose it upon all as a Christian duty. Secondly, we should recognize our financial obligations to the church. Too often the policy is adopted of paying all our other obligations and ministering to our pleasures and then what we may have left put in the church treasury. This is an entire misconception of our duty. We are called upon to pay back to God His own. Don't let us use God's money to pay our own bills. One-tenth of our net gain belongs to God. Let us resolve to be honest with God in this matter of tithing."

"Closing up old scores have another phase—our relation to others. Harbor no ill feelings any longer; bear no grudge against anyone. Otherwise we cannot pray the Lord's prayer and consistently ask to be forgiven our trespasses. Do not say or feel 'I'll get even with him or her sometime.' Let kindness supplant the war spirit which has been influencing us the past few years.

In a number of instances we are urged to remember but it is just as important to forget many things. There are so many good things, so many words and deeds of kindness and helpfulness to think over. Harboring revengeful thoughts injures

C. Y. WYCKOFF HOME TO BE COMPLETED BY NEXT MONTH

Several Novel Features Are
Incorporated in Residence;
Other Homes Going Up

Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Wyckoff, who are now stopping with relatives at 145 South Pacific avenue, expect to move into their new home on the southeast corner of Vine street and Pacific avenue about the first of February.

One of its features is a tile mantel-place with a small set piece in bas-relief depicting a Dutch scene. On one side of the fireplace is a built-in bookcase and on the other side a wide built-in desk.

On either side of the front door are narrow screened French windows which will admit plenty of ozone.

A similar house is being built to the south and will be rented by Mr. Wyckoff. A double garage occupies the space between the two dwellings.

Six Room Residence
Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cleveland, 313 West Loma avenue, expect to move into a six room residence now being built for their daughter, Miss M. B. Cleveland, who is now in New York City, at 363 West Loma avenue, as soon as it is completed. Work upon it was started last week.

Home of Eight Rooms
Contractor T. J. Fambrough, 111 North Central avenue, is building an eight room residence at 365 West Vine street and a five room bungalow at 410 South Columbia avenue. They are a little better than half finished. The larger house is ready to be plastered inside.

Building Two Houses
Contractor A. T. Gray is now building a five room dwelling at 261 West Park avenue and a six room bungalow next door at 355 West Park avenue. A feature of the interiors is the cheerfulness radiated from the blue or pink tints on the abashed walls. Some of the hardwood floors have been laid already.

Home for J. D. Root
A four room residence and garage is being built at 425 West Loma avenue for J. D. Root. The inside plastering is now drying and the dwelling is more than half finished.

NOMINATION IS CONFIRMED
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Elmer Dever of Tacoma, Wash., to be assistant secretary of the treasury.

Jack Ronsee Slain by Watchman; Five Bullets in His Body

said, knew him to be a deputy sheriff. The victim was unarmed, according to friends, who found him lying in a pool of blood with the watchman standing nearby paralyzed with fright at the smoking gun still in his hand.

An effort was made to rush Ronsee to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, but he died before the ambulance had fairly gotten under way. His body was removed to the Jewel City undertaking parlors, his assailant locked up in the local jail and the merry-makers went home, a sadder lot of human beings.

It seems that an element of revenge enters into the affair. A recent raid on an illicit whisky still by federal officers was blamed on Ronsee.

Gave Tip on Still
The fact of the matter was that Allen, his assailant, gave the federal officers the tip as to where the moonshiners of Verdugo hills could be found. But it is believed that the negro accused the officer of betraying his confidence, a fight started and the shooting followed.

"Jack" Ronsee was a popular member of Glendale Elks' lodge, No. 1289. He had been employed for ten years by the water company which has its headquarters in Glendale. He was known as a fearless officer of the law. He leaves a widow at La Crescenta. His father and mother reside at Oceanide and a brother, Julius Ronsee, lives in Los Angeles.

An inquest will be held Thursday, the county coroner informed local authorities. Therefore no funeral arrangements can be completed until then.

W. E. Welz to Build Fine Residence in Huntley-Evans Tract

H. D. Charlton and C. H. Brainard, architects, of 113 East Broadway, as a very fitting conclusion to the year 1921, signed the contract for plans for a nine-room residence and double garage to be built for W. E. Welz in the Huntley-Evans tract in the Kenneth road district.

The plans call for the old English style of architecture, with steep roof. The living room, dining room and stair hall will be finished in figured gum wood. There will be a heating system in the basement. The bathroom and mantel will be of tile. The total cost is estimated at about $8,000. Plans will be ready for work to be started in February.

Helen M. Steele Is Choral Society's Head

The election of officers for the coming six months and other items of business occupied part of the time at the regular monthly meeting of the Seventh-day Adventists' Choral society, which met Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. E. Culver of the 127 North Isabel street, extended the hospitality of their home to the society for the evening. Those elected to officiate were as follows: Miss Helen M. Steele, president; Miss Travis, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. A. Belle Johnson, Mrs. Clara King Nelson, Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, program committee, to be assisted by president and secretary-treasurer.

A goodly number of members were present and a social time enjoyed after the business session. Appropriate speeches were made by the outgoing and incoming officers. Elder C. L. Neff gave an interesting and profitable talk on "Points of Value to the Choir Work." C. H. Jones, chorister, expressed his appreciation for the co-operation of the choir members during the past year. Readings were given by Miss Helen M. Steele and C. H. Jones and several ensembles sang, the selections being old favorites of Mr. and Mrs. Culver, were enjoyed.

Vote of Confidence Is Given Premier Briand

PARIS, Jan. 1.—A vote of confidence was accorded Premier Briand by the Chamber of Deputies. The vote stood 390 for and 213 against him.

The resignation of Philippe Berthelot as general secretary of the foreign office is believed to have saved the French premier from the menace of an adverse or insufficient vote on the eve of the Cannes conference, which is to begin shortly after the new year.

Urges Enforcement of Prohibition Measures

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—Attorney General Daugherty has sent an appeal to the attorney generals of each state in the Union asking for more rigid enforcement of the prohibition law by state authorities. United States district attorneys were asked to take the matter up with the state attorney generals. Daugherty also asked for stricter enforcement of food and fuel supply laws.

MRS. L. N. HAGOOD HOSTESS

Mrs. L. N. Hagood of 216 North Orange street entertained with a children's party yesterday afternoon in celebration of the New Year and also of the eighth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Betty. She was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Merritt McIlhenny of Alhambra, great-grandmother of Betty Hagood, and also by Mrs. Allen Coon, Caroline Ayars and Martha Siberell. Games and a spelling match provided diversion for the afternoon, after which refreshments were served. Table decorations were carried over with the figures 1922 for each guest, with a lighted red candle. There were twenty-five guests present.

Rehearing on P. E. Fares January 24; City Takes Action

As the result of concerted action on the part of Bert P. Woodard, city attorney for Glendale, and legal counsel representing South Pasadena and Hollywood, a rehearing on the mileage basis of rates granted the Pacific Electric railroad has been set for January 24 by the state railroad commission.

The question of interurban fares will be a topic of discussion before the Chamber of Commerce directors this afternoon. Fiscal agents of the Ambrosini Hotel Corporation also will appear before the board. The Tournament of Roses prize awards and other subjects are due for consideration. The following make application for membership:

Money at 3 Per Cent Subject for Address at Meeting Tonight

If you are interested in obtaining money to own or build your own home, business property or pay off mortgages at 3 per cent interest annually, you are invited to attend the meeting to be held tonight in the Citizens' building, 150 South Brand boulevard, Chamber of Commerce auditorium. At that time an address will be given by the Honorable F. L. Rounsevell, who will tell of "one of the greatest plans in existence today whereby money may be obtained to own or build homes, business property or pay off mortgages at 3 per cent annual interest."

There will be no admission fee and the meeting is to be purely of an educational nature and will be conducted on a high standard of ethics. The meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock sharp.

Merchant Marine Plan Proves Unacceptable

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—The first draft of proposed plans for a merchant marine subsidy has proven unacceptable. Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, announced. Five committees are working on suggested plans and a decision will not be made, Lasker said, until the report of these committees is received.

Norma Talmadge On T. D. & L. Screen 3 Days This Week

"The Wonderful Thing" is the title of the latest production starring Norma Talmadge, distributed by First National. It is announced as the attraction at the T. D. & L. theatre, beginning today and continuing on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Herbert Brenon and Clara Beranger adapted the story from the stage play of the same name.

The production is in a considerably lighter vein than anything which Miss Talmadge has done recently, but it has an underlying strain of a love-drama which gives Miss Talmadge opportunity for some bits of superb emotional acting.

As Jacqueline Boggs, the only daughter of the American Hog King, a finished product of a French convent, she is irresistibly droll. As a dramatic figure, and once again her father's daughter, she is tragic. One advantage, however, which a drama of love has over a drama of life is that a happy ending is possible, and one comes in a very satisfying manner in "The Wonderful Thing."

Lloyd Hamilton's comedy, "The Vagrant," is also on this program, with special musical selections by Olsene at the master organ.

It was Mack Sennett who flashed the wit, wisdom, beauty and brilliance of "Mickey" to the world.

It was Mack Sennett who has produced another triumph—one that will out-ribe "Mickey," and its title is "Molly O."

In "Molly O" are again combined the forces that made "Mickey" supreme among comedies: Mack Sennett, the producer; merry Mabel Normand, the mischievous star; and F. Richard Jones, the director.

Taking more than a year to complete and over 2000 persons to present, "Molly O" comes to the T. D. & L. theatre this week in the complete confidence of the management that it is greater than "Mickey," and one of the very few really big productions that have distinguished the Silver Sheet.

Glendale Auto Camp Is Under Construction

Incorporation is being completed for the Will M. Robertson Auto Camp, the first of which is under construction just west of Glendale along San Fernando road between Colorado boulevard and Broadway.

Mr. Robertson states that it will be known as "Glendale Camp" and all mail to tourists directed through the local postoffice. Improvements are being made in the physical property now on the ground. It is the logical location for the largest tourist park in America, according to Mr. Robertson who has explained his project to the Chamber of Commerce and obtained the backing of local people in this venture.

San Fernando Valley

Forty-Niner Celebrates

One of the last of the living 49'ers, West Harris McKean of Placerita canyon, near Newhall, celebrated his ninetieth birthday New Year's with a family reunion. This pioneer came to California to dig for gold in the placers along the Sacramento river. He helped pay his travelling expenses by driving spikes on the Union Pacific, the first trans-continental railroad.

His stories of hardships in the early days put the pessimist of today to shame and to prove that he still is optimistic for more than 70 years he has been panning gold from the washes of the Golden State.

Van Nuys Garage Burns

Revis Brothers' garage on Sherman Way in an Nuys was destroyed by fire last week. It is the most disastrous conflagration in the thriving valley city for many years. Both the buildings and contents, including many cars, were a total loss which is estimated at $30,000.

From Farms to Factories
Another valley ranch lying between Glendale and Burbank is to be marketed for industrial sites. Arthur L. Holgate purchased the Robert H. Mitchell place on San Fernando road near Sonora avenue. It lies along the Southern Pacific railway.

Ranchers Suffer Big Loss
Nearly fifty acres of good farming land, located in the north of the Palmdale river, south of San Fernando, were swept away during the high waters recently when the river cut a new channel about a half mile to the east of the old channel, south of the bridge that crosses the Palmdale on the San Fernando road. Among the heaviest losers are H. J. Bagdatz, Miller brothers and Mrs. Boyle Workman, wife of the former president of Los Angeles city council. It is estimated that the actual loss will be over $25,000 but the worst feature is the menace that has arisen to other valuable citrus groves and lands nearby.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Worthy of First Prize
Old Sol Plays a Joke
Another Officer Slain
Concentering Communities

By Gil A. Cowan

GLENDALE must be satisfied with second place this year in the Tournament of Roses float contest. That is the decision of the judges, but the people who so loyally aided in this very favorable representation need not feel their efforts were in vain. For many other cities entered in the same good spirit and won less, some not even favorable mention.

And when it is considered that such a striving town as Portland, Ore., with its polychrome vase of American Beauty roses carried off the cup, it is little wonder that the scenic investiture of flowers such as Glendale displayed had a real contender. Those roses were being developed a year ago, for the Rose City declared last New Year's it would win.

But to revert to Glendale's float—nothing too good can be said of it. It was the last word in floral effusion. Its detail had anything outdone in the history of the tournament.

As second, Glendale was a worthy first. From an advertising standpoint with the tourists, it unquestionably will rank first in their memories with the snowbound east and the sunny southland so vividly depicted. All hail the second prize-winner. All credit to Mrs. M. L. Tight and the float committee, especially Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Chobe. The gratitude of a city is theirs for such a creditable showing.

Seems as though the joke was on everybody yesterday. Old Sol slipped one over on Pasadena. In the morning he hid behind clouds with the prediction of rain keeping everyone home until the very last minute.

There was a glum looking crowd of boosters in the Crown City at 8 a. m. Would Old Sol smile, or cry? About 9 o'clock the first rays of sunshine were to be seen. And such a sigh of relief as was vented. While the day was not ideal, surely it was better than Sunday.

Today a peace officer lies dead here, the victim of little less than assassination, attributable to the enforcement of the prohibition law.

Not that he was enforcing the law, for it may not have been broken at the time he was shot, but because of the law breakers' enmity toward a deputy sheriff he goes to an early grave.

There is no question but what moonshining and bootlegging are responsible for making lawbreakers out of otherwise law-abiding citizens. Only within the last few days has a great Los Angeles newspaper awakened to the fact that prohibition has been written into the U. S. constitution for some eighteen months.

Rather interesting information comes from Eagle Rock. At a Chamber of Commerce meeting there a representative of Glendale municipality stated that a bigger and larger plan for sewage disposal is being worked out for the entire city and it will include Eagle Rock and Burbank, if necessary. Just another link in the inevitable chain of city building by which Glendale will become the second largest and most important residential and industrial metropolis in the southland.

Predictions are cheap, but it is an easy bet that New Year's, 1925, three years hence, will see this city with 60,000 or more people. A decade later will see the dream phrase come true: "Glendale, the Brooklyn of Los Angeles."

John Scales Appointed As Township Constable

John Scales, formerly detective sergeant on the Glendale police force, has been sworn in as constable of Burbank township in place of Frank Klefer, who resigned the appointment. Henry Purrier, former constable, now is a turnkey at the county jail.

Mr. Scales is an experienced officer, having come west with a record of ten years' police and detective work in Indiana. He will have his office with Justice of the Peace Harry M. Miller at 114 East Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Gossman Leave for Bay City

Mr. and Mrs. Angelino Gossman and infant daughter, Juanita, who spent the Christmas holidays in this city as the guests of Mr. Gossman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Gossman, of Sycamore Canyon road, left Saturday for their home in San Francisco.

Mr. Gossman is well known in this city, having been yell leader of the local high school for three successive years, graduating in 1914. He is now manager of the Celite Products company of Los Angeles.

Sand in Road Holds Up Meeting of Club

On account of the sand that is obstructing traffic on Glenwood road, the Glendale Foothill Improvement association has postponed its regular monthly meeting, which was to have been held tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Botsford, until such time as the city can clear the road and make it safe for traffic, according to Mr. Botsford, who states that due to the recent storm the sand in some places is four feet deep.

Tom Mix Picture Last Time Tonight on Glendale Screen

The Tom Mix picture, "The Night Horsemen," will be shown today, for the last time, at the Glendale Theatre. This Fox picture has drawn record holiday crowds.

Mix again enacts the role of Whistling Dan, a character so wild that the "honk, honk" of the geese flying northward cause him to forget even his wedding day in his desire to play in the wilderness. Love tames Whistling Dan after many stirring adventures in "The Night Horsemen," and when he again hears the "honk, honk" of the northward-bound geese he turns away, for the first time in his life, and goes home with Kate Cumberland, the girl who has loved him and waited for him. May Hopkins plays Kate.

At St. John in "Small Town Stuff" completes the bill. Tomorrow Burns Brothers' Minstrels, with 15 people, will be the featured attraction with the film program at regular prices.

Pacific Electric's Increase in Fares Is Given Defense

Editor The Evening News—The citizens should bear in mind while considering the increased car fares, that the Pacific Electric Railway company has been and is one of the largest factors in the development of Glendale. This company built and maintains its own road, while it has to compete with other means of transportation which pays little for the use of the expensive highways, built by public funds, to which it as a corporation paid heavy taxes.

Now our city council is up in arms because this public carrier has been granted increase in fares by our state authorities. But, how about our Glendale "fares." Within a few years our water rates have been nearly doubled, municipal taxes greatly increased, and we have to pay extra to have garbage removed. Why?

The people have been told in a recent statement by the council that it costs more now. If it costs more to run the city at present than formerly may it not cost more to run an electric railway? Glendale spent over $3,000,000 in buildings in 1920 and over $5,000,000 last year, but the Pacific Electric company is not financially able to extend its lines to La Crescenta and Sunland.

Watchnight Services by Pacific Methodists

Watchnight services were well attended New Year's Eve at the Pacific Methodist church. At 11:30 o'clock a devotional meeting was held consisting of song, prayer and a brief talk by Rev. Hartley G. Preston. Silent prayer for three minutes preceded the coming of the New Year after which the doxology was sung. The church bell also did its part in ringing out the old year and ringing in the new.

An entertainment, under the auspices of the Epworth League, occupied the earlier part of the evening. Miss Pearl Kindenberg gave two readings; Miss Ethel Wilson played a piano solo and accompanied R. D. Crumpton and Miss Donna Wilson in vocal solos. D. S. Hollingshead of the Loomis-Shuck Music company played several numbers on the piano. Miss Sarah Hommer sang a vocal solo accompanied by Miss Helen Gould who also accompanied singing by the congregation. All of the entertainers were called back for encores.

"Montreal to London" was the subject of a talk by Rev. Preston. Refreshments were served.

G. F. Laude, Sign Man, Starts Business Here

G. F. Laude, maker of signs that talk, has located in Glendale and now is located at 312 East Broadway with Alfred Baines shoe repair shop. With his wife he has taken a home at 441 West Harvard street and believes that Glendale offers a great field for his line.

The cost of one United States battleship would endow four universities like Princeton or build 8600 homes at a cost of $5000 each.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture: you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it dardens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge with soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking only small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Advertisement.
